THE INTERNAL REVENUE BILL, which awaits the signature of the President, is intended to reduce the taxes $100,000,000.

MR. DANIEL RICE, circus man, has formally consented to be the Democratic candidate for Congress in the Erie district.

THE Union party of the 18th Ohio district held their Congressional Convention on Tuesday last. Hon. Rufus P. Spalding was unanimously nominated.

SOME admirers of MR. JAMES FREEBORN in Philadelphia, presented him on last Saturday evening, a superb gold watch and chain, as a testimonial of regard for his services as a member of the State Legislature.

THE Democrats of Blair county met in convention at Hollidaysburg, a few days ago, and resolved that Col. John Cresswell Jr., is their choice for Congress, and without nominating a ticket adjourned to meet on the 30th of August.

ON LAST MONDAY EVENING Gen. W. T. SHERMAN was serenaded at the Union League House at Philadelphia. A cordial welcome was given the General, by Mayor MCMICHAEL, to which he responded. General MEADE also made some remarks.

THE Democrats of Indiana county, Pa., met on Monday last, in Indiana borough, and put in nomination the following ticket: Congress—H. W. Wier, Esq., Indiana; President Judge—S. M. Clark, Esq., Indiana; Assembly—John F. Young, Esq., Indiana. No county ticket was nominated.

AT Lancaster, Pa., a Soldiers' Geary Club has been established. The names of the members occupies the columns of the Express. The Clymer soldiers of that neighborhood hold secret meetings, doubtless fearing to become conspicuous in politics, lest their military records be inquired into.

GOV. BOREMAN and other executive officers of West Virginia, on Tuesday last, opened and counted the vote on the amendment to the State Constitution. There were thirty-seven thousand five hundred and twenty-six votes cast, and a majority for ratification of sixty-nine hundred and twenty-two was announced.

MR. THADDEUS STEVENS is authoritatively announced as a candidate for the United States Senate in place of Mr. COWAN. The East has this time brought out a candidate who stands second to no man in the nation for intellectual vigor, for those delicate intuitions which constitute the essence of leadership, for experience in public affairs, and for steadiness and fidelity to his professions. If the West must relinquish its claims—which we do not by any means concede—the selection of Mr. STEVENS would measurably compensate for the disappointment.

THE Zanesville Courier says it once heard General W. T. Sherman explain how it happened he never voted but once for President:

"I'll tell you why," said the General, "I never voted but once, and then I disfranchised myself."

Such looks of wonder and incredulity as this produced may be imagined, but the General paying no attention thereto, proceeded:

"I never voted for a President but once in my life, and that was for Buchanan, and I am since satisfied that any person who was d—d fool enough to do that, has not sense enough to exercise the elective franchise. I disfranchised myself, and consequently shall not vote."

A LETTER received in Washington from a partner of Captain Titlow, noted as the officer who ironed Jeff Davis, states that Captain Titlow says that Dr. Craven's version of the language used by Jefferson Davis while he was being ironed, is far from being exact and truthful. Captain Titlow visited the interior of Fortress Monroe one day last week, and in passing Davis's quarters, he (Davis) caught sight of the Captain, called to him, invited him in, and received him most cordially. He at once expressed himself as being much displeased with the general tenor of Dr. Craven's book, and requested Captain Titlow to write a statement refuting the version of the shackling. No better evidence need be desired of the untrustworthiness of the book throughout.

IN a speech of President Roberts to the Fenians, at Buffalo, he is reported to have said:

"The dawn of Irish liberty is approaching, and in a friendly spirit I ask you to extend your hand to every other people who are struggling for liberty; help to enslave no man, and remember that God created us all in his own image; that He looks not so much at the color of the face as the color of the heart."

If the Fenians, as a body, had not notoriously occupied a position the very reverse of this—if, while filling the civilized world with their wailings over the oppressions of Ireland, they had not been the most implacable enemies of universal liberty in this country and doughty champions of slavery—they would have enlisted the cordial sympathy of large sections of population who looked upon their movements with distrust. Men who pander to the enslavement of other people are not apt to be taken into fellowship by the lovers of impartial freedom when they simply demand the liberation of their own set.

ONE OF THE RECONSTRUCTED REBELS, by birth a Pennsylvanian, and connected with an eminent family pertaining to our our Judiciary, educated at West Point at public expense, writes to an old acquaintance in this neighborhood, under date—

SAN ANTONIA, Texas, June 22, 1866.

Dear Sir: I do not think there is a country in the world where there is such an opportunity for investing ready money; but for God's sake do not claim to be a Yankee, or you will never get along with the Texans. And I must say I detest them as much as any one. Business only causes me to have anything to do with a Yankee or a Yankee sympathizer. Our elections come off next Monday, and we shall elect the whole ticket over the radical abolition party—that is, the negro worshiper; the Thad. Stevens, Sumner and company party, which all right-thinking men must ignore. Having taken the negro from us, they wish him now to vote, to carry everything over our heads. But before I would, or will submit, I will travel all the way north to kill either or both of them. You desire me to send you a paper of the Parson Brownlow order. We have none such in our State. There is a dirty little sheet published in San Antonia; but I do not allow any one in my house to read it, or bring it on the place. I do not tolerate such documents. In my Club Room I found Harper's Monthly on my table, and I took my knife and cut it to pieces. I will quit the Club if I am to be insulted by such papers, in a place of resort for pleasure.

Ladies of Delicate Constitution
And uncertain health are strenuously advised to throw aside the nauseous and useless preparations with which they are accustomed to drug themselves, and test the hygeian, body-and-mind-strengthening virtues of HOSTETTER'S CELEBRATED STOMACH BITTERS. In all the complaints and disabilities arising from various causes, they will find this cheering, refreshing and invigorating preparation of extraordinary efficacy. Its regulating properties are wonderful, and as a remedy for the languor, nausea, tremors, convulsions, hysteria, &c., which often accompany the development of womanhood, it has no equal among the prescriptions of the faculty or advertised medicines. For the many distressing feelings which usher in and often follow the period of maternity, and also for the painful and dangerous symptoms which sometimes accompany "change of life," HOSTETTER'S BITTERS are earnestly recommended. No other restorative seems to suit so well the constitution and the organizations of the feebler sex. In all cases of Female Debility, where there is a want of brisk vital action, the BITTERS produce a most important change—relieving local weakness, and re-establishing the general health.

Hostetter's Bitters
Are sold wholesale and retail at very low rates at Fleming's Drug and Patent Medicine Depot, No. 84 Market street, corner of the Diamond and Market, near Fourth street.

The Portland Conflagration—Loss of the Portland Insurance Company.

PORTLAND, MAINE, July 11.—The Portland Mutual Insurance Company, which has been reported as losing only $160,000, cannot lose less than $400,000. It has been in operation for many years, taking risks on houses at very low rates, mostly among the middle classes. It will be able to pay about 20 per cent on the loss. This will fall very severely on widows and orphans, and the poorer classes who insured in this Company.

LATEST VIA LONDONDERY BY TELEGRAPH.—London, June 29.—The war news is conflicting, both sides claiming to have obtained the advantage in the encounter on the 27th inst. at Skalitz. No engagement is reported as having taken place since.

Earl Derby is endeavoring to form a coalition ministry to include whigs and some of the members of the late government.

The steamship Baltic, from New York, reached Southampton on the evening of the 27th. The steamship Erie, from New York, arrived at Liverpool on the 28th. The steamship Denmark, from New York, arrived at Crook Haven on the 28th. The American sloop of war Asnuelot, left Queenstown on the 28th on a cruise.

Nothing is known of the ministerial arrangements except that the Queen has authorized Earl Derby to form a ministry, and promised her support. A meeting of the chief conservatives was to be held on the 28th, after which Earl Derby proceedes to Windsor to lay before the Queen the result of the consultation.

The Herald, conservative organ, says that there will be difficulties in the way of forming a strong ministry.

The Morning Post thinks there is some reason to expect that the Palmerstonians may be soon induced to co-operate and thus enable Lord Derby to form a government of some power.

A proclamation of neutrality in continental affairs had been published.

There are indications that the strike of the seamen at the port of London is about to cease.

Hostilities between the Austrians and Prussians had commenced.

There was a desperate battle in Bohemia on the 27th.

A Prussian telegram dated Nachad, says that an important battle, in which the cavalry and artillery were principally engaged, has been in progress to-day.

The Austrians were driven back from near Skalitz to Jarowiez. Three flags and many prisoners were taken. The loss on either side is unknown.

A Breslau telegram says the 1st Prussian army corps attacked the enemy at Frankenau. The battle began at 11 A. M. The Austrians were driven back in the direction of Josestadt.

A Vienna telegram of the 28th, says it is officially announced that at the battle near Skalitz, the Prussians lost many prisoners and eighteen guns. After the battle a Prussian Major went to the quarters of Marshal Benedek, under a flag of truce, to solicit an armistice. The demand was refused.

A Cracow dispatch of the evening of the 28th says: This morning the Prussians made a fresh attack upon Oswieintia, when they were repulsed with heavy losses. The Prussians destroyed the Cracow and Vienna railroad in several places, seriously interrupting Austrian communication with Gallicia. The Austrians entered Myslolites on the 27th, but in the afternoon the telegraph station was again in possession of the Prussians.

FRANCE.—The Corps Legislatif has passed the whole ordinary budget by a large majority.

The Patrie has reason to believe that no arrangements are being made for the purpose of sending French squadrons of observation to the Adriatic or the North sea.

The conference on the Danubian principalities had adjourned.

The bourse, on the 28th, was firm. Rentes closed at 63f. 75c.

The Times says the Zollverein has ceased to exist, but duties continued to be levied by the governments where foreign goods are landed.

HUNGARY.—The Committee on the affairs common to Hungary and Austria, propose that Hungary assume a portion of the Austrian State debt, that loans and commercial questions be treated in common, by means of the special treaties.

The general telegraph company of Great Britain furnish additional particulars concerning the engagement at Custozza. The left wing of the Italians was attacked at various points simultaneously, and crushed before the remainder of the army could come to its aid.

After the battle the army of the Archduke advanced in pursuit of the Italian army, which up to that time had maintained the position it held previously. It was, however, driven from Valeggio and compelled to recross the Mincio. The Austrians are also crossing that river and taking up their position in Italian territory. The two armies thus stood facing each other, the Austrians at Valeggio and the Italians some four miles to the northwest of Solferino, and it was probable that another engagement would be fought.

The object of the Italian movement on Saturday was to withdraw the Austrians from the line of the Po and allow Cialdini to cross. The movement having failed, Cialdini remained on the south side of the river. The reverse on Sunday, June 24th, has in no way disheartened the Italians.

The Copenhagen telegrams state that arrangements are being made for a line of steamers direct between New York and the Scandinavian ports.

NEW YORK, July 11.—The steamer Columbia from Havana on the 7th, has arrived.

The reported surrender of Puerto Principe proves a canard. It was only a slight encounter between the troops and citizens, in consequence of practical jokes played on the former, who were ordered to their barracks, and serious trouble prevented.

SOUTHERN UNIONISTS' CONVENTION.

Caucus of Republican Members of Congress.

WASHINGTON, July 11.—The following is the call for a Convention of Southern Unionists, to be held at Independence Hall, in the city of Philadelphia, on the 1st Monday of September, 1866.

To the Loyal Unionists of the South:

The great issue is upon us. The majority in Congress and its supporters, formally declare that the rights of the citizen enumerated in the Constitution and established by the supreme law, must be maintained inviolate. Rebels and rebel sympathizers assert that the rights of the citizens must belong to the States alone, and under such regulations as the respective States choose voluntarily to prescribe. We have seen this doctrine of State sovereignty carried out in its practical results until all authority in Congress was denied; the Union temporarily destroyed, the Constitutional rights of the citizens of the South nearly annihilated, and the land desolated by civil war. The time has come when the structure of the Southern States' governments must be laid on constitutional principles, or the despotism grown up under an atrocious leadership be permitted to remain. We know of no other plan than that Congress, under its constitutional power, shall now exercise its authority to establish the principle whereby protection is made coextensive with citizenship. We maintain that no State, either by its organic law, or legislation, can make transgression on the right of the citizen legitimate. We demand and ask you to concur in demanding protection to every citizen of the great republic, on the basis of equality before the law, and further, that no State Government should be recognized as legitimate under the Constitution in so far as it does not, by its organic law, make impartial protection full and complete. Under the doctrine of State sovereignty, with rebels in the foreground controlling the Southern Legislatures, and embittered by disappointment in their schemes to destroy the Union, there will be no safety for the loyal element of the south. Our reliance for protection is now on Congress and the great Union party that has stood, and is standing, by the nationality, by the Constitutional rights of the citizens, and by the beneficial principles of free government.

For the purpose of bringing the loyal unionists of the south into conjunctive action with the true friends of republican government of the north, we invite you to send delegates in goodly numbers from all the southern States, including Missouri, Kentucky, West Virginia, Maryland and Delaware, to meet at Independence Hall, in the city of Philadelphia, on the first Monday in September next. It is proposed that we should meet at that time to recommend measures for the establishment of such a government in the south as accords with and protects the rights of all citizens.

We trust that the call will be responded to by numerous delegations, such as represent the love and loyalty of the South for that kind of government which gives full protection to all the rights of the citizen, &c., such as our fathers intended, and we claim as our birthright. Either the loyal [illegible] liberty must rule the nation, or [illegible] and their sympathizers be permitted to resume it. Shall loyalty or disloyalty have the keeping of the destinies of the nation?

Let the responses to this call, which is now in circulation for signatures and is being numerously signed, answer.

Notice is given that gentlemen at a distance can have their names attached to it by sending a request by letter directed to Dr. W. Bingham, Washington, D. C.

CAUCUS OF REPUBLICAN CONGRESSMEN.

A caucus of Republican members of Congress was held at the Capitol to-night, and was organized by calling Representative Banks to the chair. There was a large attendance of the members of the House, but comparatively few Senators.

Among the first things done was to enjoin secrecy regarding their proceedings, but notwithstanding this, it has transpired that there was a full and free interchange of views on the questions pending before Congress, and the interests of the party generally, the remarks all tending to the conclusion that they could not now fix the time of adjournment.

It was finally concluded to appoint a Committee of Senators and Representatives, to review the entire ground, and recommend what measures should be passed by Congress, in other words, some systematic course of action preliminary to agreeing upon a time for adjournment. Their report is to be made at another meeting.

CONGRESSIONAL PROCEEDINGS.

Bill to Aid in the Construction of Telegraph Lines Finally Passed—The Fuller and Dawson Contested Seat Case.

WASHINGTON, July 11, 1866.

SENATE.

A bill to extend the time for the acceptance by the southern States of grants of land for the establishment of agricultural colleges, was passed.

Mr. Pollard, from the Judiciary Committee, reported the House bill to establish a uniform system of bankruptcy, with certain amendments, which was ordered to be printed.

Mr. Clarke called up the bill to regulate the times and manner of holding elections for Senators in Congress.

Mr. Fessenden moved to strike out the provision for a viva voce vote in the election of Senators. This was disagreed to.

The bill was, after discussion, passed—yeas 25, nays 11.

The bill to re-annex Alexandria was taken up at 2:45 P. M.

Mr. Ramsey called up a bill to extend for three years the benefits of the bill granting lands to the Southern States for the establishment of agricultural colleges, which was passed.

Mr. Clark called up the bill to regulate the terms and manner of holding elections for Senators in Congress.

Mr. Fessenden objected to the provision that the vote shall be viva voce. He said it was the custom to vote by ballot in nearly all the New England States, and there might be some objection to the proposed change.

Mr. Trumbull replied to Mr. Fessenden that the Committee on Judiciary had carefully considered the matter, and had concluded that as members of the Legislature acting in a representative capacity, their constituents have a right to know how they vote. A viva voce vote prevents deception.

Mr. Fessenden said to test the sense of the Senate, he would move to strike out the words "by a viva voce vote."

After a discussion by Messrs. Williams, Anthony, Sumner, Saulsbury and Guthrie, Mr. Fessenden's amendment was disagreed to—yeas 6, nays 29.

Mr. Davis spoke against the bill.

Mr. Howe moved an amendment that if no person shall receive a majority on the first day, the two houses shall meet in joint convention at twelve o'clock meridian on each succeeding day, and take at least one vote each day until a Senator shall be elected. The amendment was adopted.

Mr. Sherman moved an amendment to strike out the provision that in joint assembly a majority of all the members elected to both houses shall be present and voting. This was disagreed to.

The bill was then read a third time.

Mr. Saulsbury moved its indefinite postponement, which was disagreed to.

It was then passed by the following vote—Yeas, 25; nays, 11.

Mr. Nesmith introduced resolutions, which were adopted, inquiring for information regarding certain disorderly proceedings, robberies and murders on the road from the Arizona line to Guaymas, Mexico, and directing the Military Committee to inquire into the closing of that route by the opposing forces in Mexico, with other matters concerning the same subject.

Mr. Harris introduced the following, which was referred to the Committee on Commerce:

Resolved, That the American Atlantic Telegraph Company or corporation, organized under the laws of New York, for the purpose, and with the intent to establish telegraph communication between the United States and other nations, and to construct, submerge and operate a cable or cables to be submerged in the Atlantic Ocean, between the United States, Bermudas, Acor Islands and Portugal, and to receive, transmit and deliver any telegraph message or written communication between Europe and America, be, and are hereby, vested with the right and privileges to the exclusive use of the Atlantic coast of the United States for the laying of their cable or cables for a period of fifty years from the passage of this act.

Mr. Poland, from the Committee on the Judiciary, presented a bill to establish a uniform system of bankruptcy throughout the United States, with amendments. Among the amendments are the following: The appointment of Registers of Bankruptcy is given to Judges of District Courts instead of Circuit Courts of the United States; instead of Commissioners to assist the Chief Justice in framing general orders for specified purposes, any two Associate Judges may render such assistance. The exemption of such property as is exempted by the laws of the State in which the bankrupt is domiciled, is stricken out. The other provisions are verbal and of minor importance. There is no essential change made in the bill as it passed the House.

Mr. Sumner asked if it was the intention of Mr. Poland to call for the consideration of this bill at the present session.

Mr. Poland said he could not tell with certainty what would be done in the matter. He knew no reason why the bill should not be considered before adjournment.

Mr. Sumner hoped it would be taken up soon. The bill, as amended, was ordered to be printed.

Mr. Guthrie introduced a bill to revive and continue in force an act making grants of public lands to the State of Mississippi, for the building of certain railroads, approved August 18, 1856. Referred to the Committee on Public Lands.

Mr. Conness, from the Conference Committee on the bill to prevent smuggling, made a report, which was agreed to, concurring in nearly all the amendments. The report was made some days since, but in consequence of some clerical errors the Conference Committee had to be reappointed.

HOUSE.

Mr. Stevens, from the Committee on Appropriations, reported back the Senate amendments to the Consular and Diplomatic Appropriation bill, some of which were concurred in, with an amendment abolishing the office of the Minister Resident at Portugal.

The Senate amendment for the appointment of a Second Assistant Secretary of State was non-concurred in.

Mr. Stevens, also from the same committee, reported back the Senate amendments to the Legislative, Executive and Judicial Appropriation bill. There were one hundred and thirty-five amendments, most of them of an unimportant character. They were almost all concurred in. Before disposing of all the amendments, Mr. Loan, from the Committee of Conference on the Senate bill granting lands to Kansas to aid in the construction of the Northern Kansas Railroad and Telegraph, made a report which was disagreed to.

Mr. Payne introduced a joint resolution recommending the organization and instruction of militia by the several States, and providing for the distribution of ordnance and ordnance stores, which was read twice and passed.

Mr. Hooper, from the Committee on Banking and Currency, reported a substitute for the bill amendatory of the national currency act, which was ordered to be printed, and assigned for consideration on Friday next, after the morning hour.

Mr. Alley, from the Postoffice Committee, reported back the Senate bill, which passed that body June 28th, to aid in the construction of telegraph lines, and to secure to the Government the use of the same for postal, military, and other purposes.

Mr. Kasson suggested an amendment, providing that no powers, grants, or privileges contained in the bill shall be construed to apply to telegraphic communication between the United States and foreign countries.

Mr. Alley declined to have the amendment offered, on the ground that if the bill were sent back to the Senate at this late day, it would be equivalent to killing it.

Mr. Kasson supposed there was no such a thing, and mentioned the fact that so late as yesterday a senator said to him that the House should send over some real solid measure, instead of fancy business, in which it had been recently indulging. [Laughter.]

Mr. Hale inquired whether the gentleman from Massachusetts (Mr. Alley) proposed to bring the bill to a close without giving any opportunity to the House to discuss or amend it.

Mr. Alley replied that he intended bringing the bill to a vote without yielding the floor to enemies of the bill to propose amendments which they know would most certainly kill it, but he did not propose to deny the privilege to discuss the measure in good faith.

Mr. Hale said he most certainly wished to discuss it, and he was not in the habit of discussing questions otherwise than in good faith.

Mr. Alley opened the discussion. He said that all telegraph companies of the country, or nearly all, were recently consolidated into one, which now represented a capital of forty-one millions. It was certainly the most gigantic monopoly in the country, if not in the world. It held in its hands nearly the whole telegraphic powers of the nation. The American people were substantially subject to the dictation of that company, and every one knew how much power the telegraph had for good or for evil. This bill was not to oppress that company, but to protect the rights of the nation. Congress had a few years since granted the privilege to the Pacific Telegraph Company, but that company had not acted in good faith towards the Government. It was to charge but $3.00 a message from Missouri River to the State line of California, and it was understood that a message of ten words was to be sent from Washington to San Francisco for four dollars, but the Company exacted eight dollars for a message of ten words, and refused to receive payment in the currency of the country. As to the Western Union Company, its capital stock in 1864 was eleven millions dollars, and was worth in the market two hundred per cent, but it had since been increased up to twenty-two millions, and now its stock was selling at fifty-three. Immense fortunes had been made by individuals connected with the telegraph companies. This bill was designed to enable all telegraph companies that are, or may be, organized, to build their lines over military and postal roads of the United States and over the public domain.

Mr. Fincke, a member of the Postoffice Committee, argued against the constitutionality of the bill, inasmuch as it allows private property to be used for public purposes without making compensation to owners.

Mr. Hale opposed the bill on two grounds. The first was that stated by the gentleman from Ohio, (Fincke) the soundness of whose argument could not be controverted, and the second was that under this bill, the telegraph company, for instance, and other foreign companies, could enjoy its privileges, while their governments refused equal privileges to American citizens. Any company might, under this law, extend a line beyond a marine league from the shore which our jurisdiction leaves, and then make connection with a foreign company, chartered by a foreign government. He desired to have the bill amended in both these particulars.

Mr. Alley remarked that no one had dared to say a word against the merits of the bill, but every gentleman with whom he had conversed had been forced to admit that it was a bill of great merit, and that there ought to be a remedy for the evil complained of. So far as the constitutionality of the question was concerned, he had nothing to say, as he was not a lawyer, but eminent lawyers with whom he had conversed had said that they believed the bill was perfectly constitutional. He had anticipated opposition to it. He understood what appliances were at work to defeat it. He understood that the manager of the great telegraph monopoly had been on the floor to-day soliciting the aid of the members in opposition to this bill. He had no doubt that it might be improved in certain particulars, but he did not want to run the risk of sending the bill back to the Senate at this stage of the session.

Mr. Kasson declared that he had no difficulty about the Constitutional question. The difficulty with him was a practical one. The bill did not reserve to the United States, as it should, the control of the telegraph rates, and there was nothing to prevent a perfect accord between existing companies and those to be organized under this act, in regard to establishing extravagant rates of fare. He wanted that the telegraph should be put in connection, as far as possible, with the Post-office Department. His objection was to fix the maximum rates which should be charged under the bill.

Mr. Washburne, of Illinois, expressed his willingness to do anything tending to break up or interfere with the present stupendous telegraph monopoly, which had become so oppressive to the people. These telegraph companies had been combining, confederating and consolidating almost every telegraph line in the country, and the people were now being taxed enormously for telegraph facilities. He desired to have the bill so amended that no company organized under it could dispose of its privileges to any other company.

Mr. Alley declined to admit the amendment, and insisted on the previous question, which was seconded. The main question was ordered to be put—yeas 71, nays 66. The bill was passed by yeas 76, nays 63.

Mr. Price introduced a bill to authorize the issue of certain bonds in denominations greater than one thousand dollars, which was read twice and referred.

Mr. Paine called up the report of the Committee on Elections in the contested election case of Fuller against Dawson, from the First Congressional District of Pennsylvania, ending with a resolution declaring Dawson entitled to retain his seat.

Mr. Scofield moved to amend by declaring Smith Fuller entitled to a seat.

Speeches were made by Mr. Paine in support of the sitting member, and by Mr. Scofield in support of the contestant, after which the question went over till to-morrow.

Mr. LeBlond called attention, as a question of privilege, to the fact that although the House had ordered the minority and majority reports of the Reconstruction Committee to be printed together, the volume containing the majority report did not contain the minority report.

The Speaker mentioned, perhaps, as an explanatory circumstance, that the minority report had not been made until eleven days after the majority report, and suggested that the proper way to ascertain the facts was to refer the subject to a committee.

Mr. Le Blond moved to refer it to a Select Committee, and Mr. Washburne, of Illinois, moved as an amendment, to refer it to the Committee on Printing. Pending discussion of the question the House adjourned.

Reported Breaking out of Cholera on Shipboard—The Plasterers' Convention To-day.

PHILADELPHIA, July 11.—Some excitement was caused here to-day by a report that the cholera had broken out in the frigate Chattanooga, in our Navy Yard. The reports were probably much exaggerated. The truth seems to be that five men in that ship have died of the cholera morbus within a few days. The supposed cause of the disease was from the eating of new potatoes. No information upon the subject can be obtained.

The delegates to the Plasterer's Convention are assembling here. The Convention meets here to-morrow at 10 o'clock, and will probably be in session three days. It will comprise delegates from nearly every State.

The Constitutional Amendment Ratified by the Senate—No Quorum in the House—The Robbery in Nashville.

NASHVILLE, July 11.—The Senate passed a resolution ratifying the Constitutional Amendment by 14 to 6. There was no quorum in the House. It is reported several absentees have been arrested by order of the House. It is believed intense opposition to ratification tends to discourage the assemblage of a quorum.

CITY AND SUBURBAN.

Additional Local Matters on Third Page.

The Late Allegheny Outrage—The Prosecutrix Marries One of Her Assailants.

We gave the particulars of the alleged outraging, about two weeks since, of a young woman named Amelia Kennewick, on the outskirts of Allegheny City, by John Cash and Michael Hall, residing in Allegheny. The story, in brief, was that Cash, about nine o'clock in the evening, went in company with the woman to a certain spot, for the purpose, as he said, of meeting some friends of both sexes, who had started out for a moonlight walk. Arriving at the designated locality, they found no person in view. They were seated, but had been so long when Cash committed the offense, following which Hall made his appearance, as if by arrangement, seized the woman and treated her rudely, but failed in his purpose, officer Hess of the Allegheny police opportunely arriving. Cash and Hall were committed for trial, and if the charge, as brought, could be established, no one will say that they should not be punished to the extent of the law. The case, however, assumed a phase yesterday which leads us to believe that a jury will not be called upon to consider it.

The prosecutrix yesterday called at the county jail (as, we understand, she had previously,) to see her assailants, and after an interview, Alderman Strain was summoned to join in marriage Cash and Miss Kennewick. It was finally concluded that the ceremony should take place at his office, and thither the parties went. The Alderman, in his usual superbly elegant style, proceeded to tie the knot hymenial, and had progressed somewhat when Miss K. interrupted him to say that she was not altogether satisfied, desiring assurance that Cash, after she had become his wife, would support her, alluding to the fact that young men, under like circumstances, sometimes married simply to get out of difficulty, and deserted their wives. The magistrate declined proceeding further until the assurance required was given. The father of Cash, who was present, said he would do what he could for her support, in case his son should fail to do his part as husband in that regard. To the inquiry of the Alderman, whether she was satisfied that the ceremony should proceed after such promise, Miss K. replied affirmatively. The twain were made one, in due form, in a few minutes, and the newly-made husband returned to his prison cell, while his bride returned to her home. Cash is thus relieved from trial on the charge of rape, and will probably be discharged on a writ of habeas corpus. The case is different as to Hall, although we understand a settlement has been agreed upon, of such a nature, however, as cannot be legally made. Although by taking Cash for a husband she has relieved him, by taking cash from Hall she cannot properly get him out of the scrape.

Illegal Sentence—Prisoner Discharged.

Joseph Schell, the proprietor of a drinking saloon in the borough of East Birmingham, convicted at the last term of the Criminal Court on two charges of selling liquor illegally, and who had been sentenced to fifteen days' imprisonment in the county jail on each indictment, was brought into court yesterday at the instance of J. H. Miller, Esq., who demanded his release on the ground of illegality in the sentence as pronounced by the Court. It appears the sentencing Judge omitted to state that the second term of imprisonment would begin at the expiration of the first, and therefore the sentence was not valid. Of course Joseph was released from durance on payment of fine and costs and went on his way rejoicing. There may be little in a name, but according to legal lore there is considerable in a word.

Fined for Disorderly Conduct.

Edward Lynch made oath against Edward Moran, proprietor of the Washington House, in the Diamond, yesterday, before Mayor McCarthy, for disorderly conduct. Lynch, who is a stranger in the city, states that he put up at the Washington House on his arrival here, on Tuesday, and that in returning to his lodgings in the evening he met Moran at the back door. He spoke to him in a quiet way and asked him to give him a drink of water whereupon Moran struck him in the face knocking him down and otherwise abusing him. The accused was arrested and after a hearing was fined $10 and costs for disorderly conduct.

The Houseman Murder.

The trial of Richard Thairwell, for the murder of James Houseman, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Fayette county, in session at Uniontown, was concluded on Tuesday, resulting in the conviction of the accused of murder in the first degree.

The trial of Mary Houseman, wife of the murdered man, and Thairwell's paramour, was taken up on Tuesday, and concluded on Wednesday, the jury also convicting her of murder in the first degree.

There is little doubt but that the extreme penalty of the law will be imposed upon the parties. The murder was cold-blooded and heartless in an extreme degree.

Firemen's Picnic.—The Stewart Hook, Ladder and Hose company, a valuable adjunct to our fire department, being composed of some of the best and most experienced firemen in the city, are making arrangements for a grand picnic, and have fixed the 17th of August as the time for holding it. The proceeds will be devoted to the purchase of hose and other matters in the way enabling the company to preserve, as well as increase, their efficiency, the appropriation of the city proving insufficient for the purpose, in the matter of hose particularly. The picnic, we doubt not, will be all that can be desired, and we trust those of our citizens, property owners, will be sufficiently liberal in order to make it a success pecuniarily.

Fire in the Ninth Ward.—The alarm of fire last night about twelve o'clock was occasioned by the partial burning of a dwelling house in the Ninth ward, owned by a man named Daniel McKenna. The fire department received the alarm but their services were not needed as the fire was extinguished before they arrived.

Charged with Stealing Soap.—Jacob Eimer was before Alderman Taylor yesterday, charged with the larceny of three bars of soap from the grocery of Reuben Miller in the Fifth ward. The accused being unable to "soap" the magistrate, was held to bail in the sum of $300 to answer at Court.

The Olmsted Murder—Confession of the Murderer.

The circumstances attending the horrible murder of Rosa Colvin, at her residence, at Olmsted, Ohio, in March last, must be familiar to our readers. Alexander McConnell was followed to Canada, arrested upon suspicion, and brought back to Cleveland, where he was recently tried and convicted. Day before yesterday he made a full confession of his guilt to the Sheriff. After narrating his birth, early life, &c., he details as follows the particulars of the horrible deed for which he will soon expiate his life. He says:

When I left the shanty with Colvin on the morning of the 24th of March last, to go to Berea, I did not intend to go, but intended to turn back. I did turn back and went home. When I got to the shanty there was no one there. Then I took Colvin's clothes and boots and left my own on the bed. I then started for the railroad track, intending to go by Elyria Westward. On the way to the railroad track, I met Rosa Colvin in Egler's lot. I kept on, explaining to her that I had Colvin's things to carry them to him, that he was going to Cleveland. She said that if he was going she was going too. We went on about half way up the lane to Clodell's house, when I told her that if Colvin did not get his things he would not go; that I was tired, and we would go back to the shanty, I having bethought me that it would not do to tell the other story. We then went back to the shanty by Egler's. After laying the clothes down, and she seeing them, she said she didn't believe I was going to her husband at all. I did not know what to say. I confessed to her that I was going home to Canada. She said "Have you been robbing the house?" I said "No, I am taking some of his clothes and leaving some of mine in the place." I said I would take my own and go. She took the iron poker and said I should not go until William came. I insisted I would go. She said she would call the neighbors. I then went to get my own clothes, and went to go out of the door, when she struck me over the arm with the poker. I laid down the clothes and struck her with my fist, which knocked her down. She got up again and struck at me; don't know whether she hit me or not. I then lifted a stick of wood and struck her and she fell. I think this blow was in the back of the head. She jumped up and struck me over the head with the poker. I staggered back against the wall, and seized the axe, and struck her on the head one blow. She instantly fell. After she fell the last time I lifted her up in my arms. I was alarmed then, and said, "My God have I killed her?" I do not know what to do. I did not know what would become of me. Thought I had killed her in my passion. I went outside and stood awhile, and then came back into the shanty and carried her out to the woodpile. This was between eleven and twelve o'clock as near as I can say. After carrying her out I came back into the shanty. While I was in the house the two Crawfords and the two Spears came by close to the house. I saw them from the window. She was then buried under the wood. As soon as they had gone to dinner I picked up the things and started. In twenty minutes or half an hour after I struck her the last blow, I took her body out and deposited it under the wood pile. I was not conscious of dropping the dress that was around the body of Mrs. Colvin and was found under the snow. After I had deposited the body under the wood and came back into the house, I mopped up the blood. I did place the heavy logs of wood over her feet. It was not more than fifteen minutes after I gave her the first blow before I struck her the final blow with the axe. The money that was claimed to have been lost, and the watch, and Mrs. Colvin's clothing, I never saw and deny taking. I wish to say that I am sorry for the deed I have committed, and I hope to be forgiven for it.

Berea College, Kentucky.

Rev. J. G. Fee, noted for his struggles and sufferings under many persecutions in his efforts, during nearly twenty years, to establish educational and religious institutions in Kentucky, acceptable equally to black and white, is now in this city. He is soliciting aid in furtherance of his noble enterprise of building up schools of all grades, at Berea, in Madison county, Kentucky, under the corporate name of Berea College. This College is managed under a Board of Trustees, organized under the laws of the State. It has already secured 100 acres of land, and has had erected two recitation rooms. W. Fee, the veteran founder, is abroad to get the means for other necessary buildings, to accomodate large numbers, who are eager to avail themselves of the religious, intellectual and moral culture hitherto withheld from large classes of whites and blacks. We are happy to learn that the executors of Charles Avery have most wisely decided to contribute the sum of ten thousand dollars to the aid of Berea College. We hope at least as much more will be added by our citizens, and that Mr. Fee will be sent on his way rejoicing.

Duprez and Benedicts' Minstrels

Duprez and Benedicts' minstrel troupe are drawing crowded houses at the Pittsburgh Theatre, and so far hundreds have been turned away from the doors unable to obtain admittance. The grand secret of this unprecedented success is the unrivaled excellence of the performers. It is the best troupe that has ever visited this city, and, in our opinion, they lay a just claim for the championship of the world in the burnt cork profession. The programme each evening embraces selections of the choicest popular music of the day, and original mirth-provoking sallies of wit and humor. If a pleasant evening be desired, we can safely recommend a visit to Duprez and Benedicts' Minstrels at the Theatre. This evening there will be an entire change in the programme, and many new and entertaining features introduced. The troupe remain but a few days longer and none should lose the opportunity of attending their entertainments.

Closing Night of the Fair.

The Fair and Festival, recently opened in the Fifth ward school house, has thus far proved a grand success. Last night it was thronged by a large and fashionable audience, and all seemed highly pleased with the entertainment. Toerge's celebrated band is in attendance, and discourses beautiful music, greatly enlivening the merry throng. To-night the Festival will close, upon which occasion unusual attractions will be offered, and a magnificent supper will be served up, under the immediate direction of the fair ladies having the arrangements in charge. It is under the auspices of the ladies of the Fourth United Presbyterian church.

False Pretence.—James McClarran, an employee of the P. C. & C. R. R., appeared before Alderman Donaldson yesterday and preferred a charge of false pretence against Thomas Carrigan. It appears from the deposition of the deponent that he had been boarding at the house of Carrigan, with whom it was agreed that the boarding should be collected from the railroad company. Last week McClarran paid Carrigan $7.50, as a residue of two weeks board. The accused subsequently collected a like sum from the railroad company, notwithstanding McClarran was not in Carrigans debt whatever. A warrant was issued for his arrest.

Davis' Panorama of the American Rebellion.—This rare work of art, embracing views connected with the rise, progress and termination of the Great Rebellion, will be on exhibition in our city in a few days. Mr. Davis has exhibited the panorama (his own production) in the principal cities of the United States and England, and also in Wales (his native country), with great success. We expect it will receive a liberal patronage while here.

Increase of Pensions.—Messrs. W. J. & Hall Patterson, the responsible and trustworthy Attorneys and Claim Agents, No. 71 Grant street, advertise in another column a number of increases in pensions due the gallant soldier or his heirs. Persons interested should read the card. We cheerfully commend this firm, knowing their high character for honesty and fidelity to the interests of their clients.

A Wife Beater.—Jane Lester appeared before his Honor Mayor McCarthy yesterday, and made oath against her husband, Joseph Lester, for assault and battery. Jane stated the partner of her bosom has fallen into the nefarious practice of beating and abusing her on the most trivial pretence. Joseph was arrested, and in default of three hundred dollars bail to answer, he was sent to Mount Misery to await trial.

Ejected from the Highway.—John Hubn yesterday called upon Alderman Taylor, of the Fifth ward, and represented that as he was walking along the turnpike, near East Liberty, Frederick Baum and John Weidreck, committed an assault and battery upon him, on putting him off the highway by force, whilst the other threatened to knock him down. Warrants were issued for the accused.

Fined.—John O'Donnell and Michael Rafferty, the parties who were arrested on Tuesday night while indulging in a free fight at the house of Peter Munday, on Webster street, in the Third ward, had a hearing yesterday before Mayor McCarthy. They were fined $5 and costs, and allowed to depart in consideration of the fact that both parties had been severely thrashed in the melee.

Lying in Wait.—W. F. Burckley called upon Alderman Taylor yesterday and made information, charging that Jas. Daily and his wife Mary Daily, laid in wait for him with murderous design, and that as he was going to his home to Lawrenceville, on Tuesday evening, they suddenly attacked and gave him abuse. The accused were arrested and held to answer.

The Portland Disaster.—A second meeting of citizens will be held at the Mayor's office this afternoon, for the purpose of carrying out the arrangements made at the meeting on Monday, for extending material aid to the sufferers by the disastrous conflagration at Portland.

Stung by Locusts.—William Kettering, of Greensburg, while plowing in his cornfield, on Friday week last, was stung on the neck by a locust, and so much affected thereby, that he had to cease work and go home. He suffered great pain in his head and body, and was confined to bed for about half a day. On Wednesday afternoon he was in town, but complained of being very weak. A great many persons handle these seemingly harmless insects with impunity, and we caution our readers to give them a wide berth, or they may suffer for their temerity.

Cutting Affair.—A difficulty occurred between John Joyce and Patrick Wall, on Wylie street, yesterday, during which Wall is alleged to have stabbed his antagonist three times in the left breast with a knife, inflicting severe but not dangerous wounds. Joyce made an information for assault and battery with intent to kill, before Alderman Strain, against Wall, for whom a warrant was issued.

Special Election for Councilman.—A special election took place in the Third ward, Allegheny, on Tuesday, for Councilman, to fill the vacancy occasioned by the resignation of John Meyer. There were two candidates, A. H. English and Jos. H. Drennan. The whole number of votes cast was three hundred and forty-two, out of which Mr. English received a majority of forty-five.

Fined for Nuisance.—William Fleming was before Alderman Morrow, yesterday, charged with maintaining a nuisance in the shape of a cow stable, on his premises, in the Sixth ward. He was released after paying five dollars and costs and promising to abate the source of trouble. J. B. Williams was the complainant.

Assaulted on the Highway.—Mary Ann Hughes appeared before Alderman Lynch yesterday, and charged a certain David Parkinson with having assaulted her on the highway without any just cause or provocation. A warrant was issued for David's arrest. Both parties reside in Pitt township.

Horrible Outrage.—A young lady named Rebecca Burkett, on Monday, was seized on the Hempfield road, near Wheeling, by eleven ruffianly scoundrels, each of whom outraged her. Out of a number of persons arrested, five have been identified.

Discharged.—John Hinly was in the tombs charged with disorderly conduct on Tuesday evening. At the hearing it was discovered that John was more sinned against than sinning, and he was therefore discharged.

Beat a Boy.—A Teutonic individual named Eberhardt was an occupant of the Lewis Mansion last night on a charge of beating a step son of Annie Murrain with a whip. Eberhardt's conduct will doubtless be requited.

Special Session of the Circuit Court.—A special session of the Circuit Court has been ordered to meet on the second Monday in August, and the first Monday of September made return day for executions.

Hack Running.—A hack now runs between Irwin's station, on the Pennsylvania Railroad, and Guffey's station, on the Connellsville Railroad, on Monday, Wednesday and Saturday of each week.

Further Committed.—Amanza Stewart, charged with the larceny of a carpet sack from the Pennsylvania Railroad Depot, was committed yesterday for a further hearing on the 18th.

Killed.—Paul Roache, an Irishman, was on a drunk at Brownsville, a day or two since, and fell from the iron bridge. He was instantly killed.

The Arson Case.—A full report of the hearing in the Fifth street arson case will be found on the Fourth page.

ADJOURNMENT OF CONGRESS.

The necessity of regulating and limiting removals from office during the vacation of the Senate has frequently been forced upon the consideration of Congress and the country, but never with so much force as at the present time. The Administration, through gentlemen holding confidential relations with it, proclaims its fixed determination to use the appointing power for the purpose of coercing the political action of incumbents, in contravention of the professions and principles on which both the Administration and its subordinates obtained possession of power at the hands of the people. In other words the President avows his purpose to be, to overrule the representatives of the States and the people by a corrupt use of the patronage of the government.

To forestall and prevent this movement Judge TRUMBULL, of Illinois, has introduced a bill into the Senate, and Mr. WILLIAMS, of this county, another into the House of Representatives. Both of these gentlemen are good lawyers, thoroughly in earnest, and perfectly familiar with the points necessary to guard, in order to protect the constitutional rights of the Senate from invasion.

Some doubts have recently been expressed whether either of these bills will be passed into laws. Interfering as they do with a cherished scheme of the President's, and which affords him the only possible chance of ultimate success in his Policy of Reconstruction, it must be taken for granted that neither of these bills can become statutes except by passing over his negative. There are some Republican members of Congress, who, perhaps, intend well enough, but do not adequately comprehend the emergency; who are hoping for reconciliation and co-operation, when such result is as clearly beyond reach as to raise the dead to life again; who draw back from all measures which they deem harsh, and calculated, as they say, to irritate the Executive. We have a suspicion that when the pinch comes on either of these bills, some of these men will turn up on the wrong side of the division. If they shirk they would be very likely to find themselves in the vocative at the next election for Congressmen, but that would not remedy the mischief.

The heated term is upon the country. With the mercury rising to nearly one hundred, Washington is not a comfortable place of abode. Members of Congress are naturally disposed to finish up and go home. In their anxiety to get away they may look with favor on arrangements which, under other circumstances, they would instantly reject as altogether inadmissible. In this view of the matter we hold to the opinion that Congress had better not adjourn, but take a recess, which will afford the members substantial relief, and yet enable them to maintain their just weight and influence upon the course of national affairs. As we judge nothing less than this will meet the issue as forced upon the Houses and the people by the President.

YEARLY SALES OF CHICAGO MERCHANTS.

The Chicago Times publishes a list of the business firms of that city whose sales during the year, ending May 1st, 1866, as reported to the Assessor of Internal Revenue, were $50,000 or upwards. From it we learn that the sales of the three leading dry goods firms were as follows: Field, Palmer & Leiter, $5,794,360; J. V. Farwell & Co., $5,647,000; Bowen Brothers, $5,150,000. During the year ending May 1st, 1865, the sales of the same houses were as follows: Field, Palmer & Leiter, $8,531,594; J. V. Farwell & Co., $7,522,875; Bowen Brothers, $5,000,000.

The three heaviest wholesale grocer firms in 1865 figured as follows: Day, Allen & Co., $2,325,000; Pollard, Doane & Co., $1,500,000; G. C. Cook & Co., $1,500,000. This year we have: Day, Allen & Co., $2,300,000; G. C. Cook & Co., $1,000,000; Geo. W. Flanders, $2,500,000; Hindsdale, Sibley & Endicott, $1,200,000.

In 1865 the heaviest produce and commission merchants were C. B. Goodyear, $1,500,000; H. C. Armour & Co., $1,208,000; William Little & Co., 1,200,000; Maitland & Scranton, $1,000,000. We have this year: Munn, Norton & Scott, $2,700,000; Spraance, Preston & Co., $2,000,000; Davis, Pope & Co., $2,300,000; Maitland & Scranton, $2,500,000.

THE FRIENDS OF THE PRESIDENT attempt to excuse the violation of decency in publishing Colonel FORNEY's letter, by alleging it was not a private or confidential letter, but an application for an appointment, duly filed in one of the Departments, and so a public document. This will not do. Under the old system papers on file relative to appointments were held to be public documents; and were open to the inspection of all persons who desired to see them. Copies were allowed to be taken. This rule, which was most pernicious, was changed several years ago. Only privileged persons, as Members of Congress, are now allowed to examine these files; and, commonly, when a case has been decided, and an appointment made, the papers are returned as private property to the parties by whom they were forwarded. Everybody sees that but for personal spite the letter of Colonel FORNEY, which has been published, would have remained undisclosed. Threats are made that other letters, written by the Colonel, and still more decidedly urging the President to a coalition or amalgamation with the Democrats, may yet be printed.

"JOHNSON, CLYMER AND THE UNION!"—Under this motto a call has been issued for "a State Convention of honorably discharged officers, soldiers and seamen of Pennsylvania," to be held at Harrisburg on Wednesday, the first day of next month.

ASSISTANT POSTMASTER GENERAL RANDALL has commenced a general cleaning out of Postmasters in the Aleghany (N. Y.) district, represented in Congress by Mr. WARD. When several removals were notified, Mr. WARD endeavored to get deserving soldiers put in the places of the incumbents, but failed. Mr. RANDALL was inexorable, declaring that "this matter has got to be fought out between Congress and the President," and closing by giving notice that "there was to be a general removal of all Postmasters who do not favor the President's Policy."

Mr. THURLOW WEED happening to be at Washington, Mr. WARD sought and obtained an interview with him on the subject. Mr. WEED was quite as decided and more violent; adding that "it was the intention to secure the election of Administration men in place of the present Radical members of Congress."

The people will thus see that gradually the mask of falsehood and hypocrisy with which the Administration entered upon the work of removing all office holders who refused to betray their principles for place, has been thrown off. When the swoop was made upon our two Congressional districts, various lies were told to excuse the removals. Now, it was insisted the individuals removed were justly obnoxious because they had verbally abused the President. Then it was insisted they had written articles for this journal, condemnatory of the President and his measures. When this latter charge was pointedly denied, those making it, with the genuine instinct of professional calumniators, maintained a profound silence on that head, but started off on a new track.

Every man observant of political tergiversations, saw there was no sincerity in these pretensions; that the persons and journals parading them did not believe in them; and they were dishonest and criminal devises for playing upon credulity. Now the President and his supporters have reached a point when that deception is no longer expedient or possible, and they boldly confess to intentions which three months ago they resented as imputations upon their integrity. This shows how perfectly conscious they were that the departure they meditated could only be accomplished by a culpable breach of faith, which would make any further pretensions on their part to manhood and honor a mockery.

—The Washington correspondent of the Rochester Democrat says that the call for the Philadelphia National Convention was prepared by Secretary Seward.

—The editor of the New York Day Book appears to have a big job on hands. In one issue of his paper a two column leader appears, to prove that he is better than a negro.

—It is stated that W. I. Grover, United States District Attorney at St. Louis, has been removed from his office on account of his share in the prosecutions brought against the Fenians.

—Baron Rothschild long since removed all the valuables from his chateau across the Rhine, and this example is now being extensively followed by landlords in Prussia, Germany, Austria, and Italy.

—The Lafayette Courier says: An estimable lady of this county, a witness in court the other day, testified that she was sixteen years of age, had been twice married, and was the mother of two children. Rather fast that feminine.

—The Fenians at Springfield, Illinois, declare they will vote for no one for any State or National position who will not first pledge himself to support and assist the Fenian cause. They advise Fenians everywhere to adopt that course.

—Gen. S. B. Buckner has been elected Vice President of the Southern Telegraph Company. The construction of a line of telegraph from Cincinnati, through Louisville, Nashville, Memphis and Vicksburg to New Orleans and Mobile, is the first object of the Company.

—The election held in Montgomery, Alabama, last Monday, to determine whether or not an appropriation of several hundred thousand dollars, to aid in the construction of a railroad to Decatur, should be made by the city, resulted almost unanimously in favor of the appropriation.

—A well-known citizen of Worcester, Mass., retired to bed the other night with his full beard, and was surprised and grieved next morning on waking to find that during the night it had all fallen off, leaving his face as bare as a boy's. The occurrence is unusual, but not unparalleled.

—Seventeen families, numbering eighty persons, lately passed through Cottonwood, Kansas, eastward bound. They were fugitives from the Mormon paradise, and among them was Dr. H. Bates, a prominent Mormon, for some years Clerk of the Twelve Apostles, and one of Brigham Young's Secretaries.

—Some children playing near Augusta, Georgia, on the 2d, found a lump of gold weighing eleven ounces in a ravine, and several smaller lumps were picked up in the vicinity. On the 3d three more lumps, weighing respectively thirteen, nine and eight ounces, were found in the same place by the owner of the land.

—There is such great fears in England of the Fenians making proselytes that the authorities have forbidden the performance of the drama of "Arrah na Pogue." In France, however, the play is produced under the name of "Jean la Poste," and has achieved a wonderful popularity. French sympathy for Irish woe is traditional.

—There are some extraordinary fast "bucks" at Saratoga this season. They tell of one gentleman that drives a four-in-hand that cost $10,000 for the horses, and $1,000 for the harness. With a liveried servant, a splendid drag, appointments all perfect, the owner of the establishment is naturally the observed of all observers.

—A Paris letter writer, intending to inform the readers of the London Star that war has begun in Europe, breaks out in this fashion: "Maddened by the fever of the hour, myriads of men are now plying the engines of death; to and fro rock the living billows of men, leaving the soil, wherever they meet, deluged with their blood."

—In many towns in Mississippi the freedmen who are able to get along without assistance from the Freedmen's Bureau have organized mutual relief associations for their own benefit, and to protect and assist the needy of their own color. They are also organizing into fire companies in some of the larger towns, and in Columbus have been uniformed as such by the white citizens.

—A wealthy bachelor of Sacramento, having had one or two law suits for breach of promise, now replies to any young lady who wishes a "few minutes' private conversation," "No you don't, madame. It cuts me to the heart to be compelled to doubt the honorableness of your intentions, but that sort of thing is played out. My rule is imperative, and if you have any business with me, it must be transacted in the presence of two witnesses!"

—One of Bragg's staff is writing letters to the Louisville Courier concerning the Bragg-Buell Kentucky campaign. He says: "The entire force with which Bragg invaded Kentucky consisted of three columns, the one accompanied by Bragg himself amounting to about twenty five thousand; the command of Kirby Smith, amounting to about fifteen thousand, and the command of Humphrey Marshall, four thousand. Total, forty-four thousand."

A Horrible Tragedy.

From the Lafayette (Ind.) Journal, July 4.

We have been informed of some of the particulars of a most horrible and cold-blooded murder and suicide which occurred on Sunday, a short distance from Reynolds, in White county, twenty-three miles north of this city, on the Louisville, New Albany and Chicago Railroad. It appears that a man named Brummer and his wife, from some domestic trouble, had separated, both however, remaining in the neighborhood. On Sunday, about 11 o'clock, Brummer met his wife, about half a mile from the town, accompanied by her little boy, when he drew his revolver and shot her, two balls taking effect in her body. The fiend then threatened to shoot the boy if he did not clear out, and the little fellow started for town. Brummer, thinking he had killed his wife, shot himself, and died, it is supposed instantly, falling across the body of the woman. The woman's clothes caught fire, and were burned completely off, so that when assistance reached them, half an hour afterwards, she was perfectly naked, and the flesh in many places burned to the bone. The poor woman lived until about 4 o'clock in the afternoon, suffering intense agony. This horrible tragedy has thrown a feeling of sadness and gloom over the entire community in which it occurred, seldom equaled. We shall endeavor to obtain the full particulars of the affair as soon as possible.

THE following anecdote of Count Bismarck is told by the Paris correspondent of Land and Water, an English journal: "In 1841 Bismarck was twenty-six years old, and had just passed his civil service examination. He went to the chief of his department, and was told to wait in the ante-room. At the end of an hour he exhibited symptoms of great irritation; three-quarters of an hour passed, and he pulled off his gloves and tore them up. When he had waited an hour and a half he got up, and was leaving the room, when the gentleman he had been waiting for opened the door and asked him what he required. 'Sir, an hour and a half ago I wished to speak with you, but desire to do so no longer.' And young Bismarck went away. Twenty-two years later Otto Edward Leopold de Bismarck was first minister, and paid an official visit to a certain prefect. The minister was shown into his apartments by the prefect, and was about to retire. 'Well, sir,' said the count, 'you must acknowledge that life is full of curious chances.' 'What does your excellency mean?' 'I mean that it is now twenty-three years since I saw you, and you are very little changed.' 'I beg your excellency's pardon, but I don't remember.' 'How!' said M. de Bismarck, laughing; 'don't you remember a young man who was rather impertinent to you when you were head of a department?' The prefect became red, green and pale, but the count gave him his hand, and no more was said of the matter."

SUPPLIES FOR EUROPEAN ARMIES.—In the great war now commencing in Europe, Russia, we are told, remains neutral "as long as France does not interfere." But France is now supplying the army of Italy with shoes openly, and probably with arms a little more quietly. In fact, the French are likely to do a good business for some time in supplying the continental armies, and England, too, may do her share, and enjoy a good carrying trade also. Goods and munitions for the Prussians, as well as the Austrians, were being shipped from each of the countries named, and of course they will capture one another's stores if they can. Italy, Prussia and Austria have all made declarations with regard to neutral vessels and contraband of war in conformity with liberal policy. The advance in breadstuffs and provisions at Liverpool is based more or less probably, on the demand for feeding the great non-productive armies of the continent before a great while. There was a greater accumulation of treasure in the Bank of France than for many years before some of it was being drawn to Italy.

COE'S DYSPEPSIA CURE is prepared by the originator of the justly celebrated Coe's Cough Balsam. Mr. Coe has never prepared a medicine for public and general use but what has stood the strongest tests, and has always borne the palm of victory over every disease it has been certified to cure. Will you who are suffering from dyspepsia, indigestion, nausea, sick headache, cholera morbus, dysentery, and general debility of the whole system, try but a single bottle? We will never urge you again if we fail in this case. Our own knowledge of its merits the united testimony of all who have ever tried it, the encomiums of hundreds of our own neighbors, your duty to yourself, and the beneficial result, as certain as sunshine, all urgently, persistently urge you to try just one bottle. If what we say is not correct—if our statements concerning its wonderful virtues are not found to be true—if you do not say that the operation of the medicine is instantaneous and perfectly wonderful—we will renounce our profession as caterers to the public health, and retire from the field, admitting that we are incompetent to compound a medicinal preparation which would be entitled to your confidence.

Pennock, Esq., fronting on the Seventh Street Road and on the Pennsylvania Railroad, immediately opposite Shady Side Station; the grounds containing six acres, more or less, and possessed of great natural beauty, tastefully laid out in slopes and graveled walks, and grown with native oaks, hickories and other forest shade trees. The grounds, also planted in ornamental shrubbery, grapevines, gooseberry, currants, &c., with kitchen garden under good cultivation. Also, a thriving young orchard in great variety of Pears, Apples, Peaches, Cherries, Quinces, &c. In addition to a well of good water is a fine spring never dry. This is the loveliest situation, and most carefully improved, of any in the beautiful East Liberty Valley, commanding facility of access in few minutes by various roads to the city.
The Mansion is an ornamental two-story brick, with half story or attic, and surmounted with observatory; all built in the most elegant style of art, and the interior of rich and tasteful finish and design, complete and perfect in all the modern improvements; containing 17 spacious rooms and two pantries, wide halls and stair cases, vestibules, mosaic laid in marble, oiled oak floors in dining room and kitchen, bells, marble mantles, inside Venitian sash, &c., throughout; bath room, supplied from cistern; Benton's steam heaters throughout the house, iron safe for silver plate, &c., built in the wall; excellent dry cellars, with cemented floors, &c., &c.
The outbuildings comprise ice house and cooling rooms, stables and gardner's dwelling, with cistern at stable, wagon and tool house, &c.

SEMPER PARATUS.
PRO BO NO PUBLICO.
Yet they say 'tis a heinous crime the way business is conducted. Some say it is murdering the trade. Others say it is against his own interests. We don't believe it. Let us see what the true state of affairs is. The truth is this: That there is a new establishment, neatly fitted up, at No. 87 Market street, Pittsburgh, over which W. G. MAHAFFEY presides, and in which boots and shoes are sold at prices so low as to astonish the natives. Hear me while I give you the prices of a few articles; while all other articles are sold correspondingly low: Ladies' Congress Lasting gaiters selling at $1.50; Ladies' Sewed Morocco Boots at $2.00; Men's Congress Lasting Gaiters at $1.50; Children's Slippers at 50c; Children's Morocco Shoes at 50c. A large lot of gent's prime fine calf balmorals and gaiters just received and selling exceedingly low. In addition to this he keeps any article in the boot or shoe line, and manufactures to order Ladies' Congress lasting gaiter morocco boot, ladies' and gentlemen's fancy cloth embroidered slippers. Likewise gent's first class calf boots made to order $1.50 lower than any other first class house in the city. Lasts fit up to fit the feet, which we would advise every man to have of his own. Ladies' and gent's fancy cloth slipper uppers, silk embroidered, for sale. Wherein consists the crime. If in selling low, we plead guilty; and by selling low we expect to preserve our own interests, and make quick sales and many of them. Inviting you to call and see for yourselves we leave the subject with you.
W. G. MAHAFFEY,
jy11 No. 87 Market Street.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

THE MUTUAL LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY,
Of New York.
ASSETS, OVER
Sixteen Million Dollars.
To meet the choice of such present or future members as may prefer to have the amount insured paid in instalments to their widows or heirs, rather than in one sum, this Company is prepared to insert in its policies a clause agreeing that in lieu of the payment of the policy and profits in one sum, an equitable amount, to be determined by the Company, may be paid annually or semi-annually for any specified number of years from five to twenty-five years.
EXAMPLE.—Suppose a policy of $10,000, with additions amounting to $5,000 more, should become payable by reason of the death of the person insured, the Company, in lieu of the payment of $15,000 in one sum would be able to give, assuming interest as realized in the past, an annuity for ten years of over $2,000 per annum, or for twenty years an annuity of over $1,38 per annum.
This form of annuity will remove the anxiety which may exist in the minds of some policy-holders lest the future provision they have made for their families, should be dissipated or transitory in its duration, either through unsafe investment, unwise expenditure, or other uncertainties incidental to continental trusts.
It is not only free from the ordinary dangers of investment, but its punctual and full payment is secured by the large and solid cash resources and good faith of this institution, which thus, to a certain extent, becomes the Guardian or Trustee of the survivors. Hence the provision may be considered, humanly speaking, beyond any adverse contingency.
All such deferred payments or annuities will share equitably in the profits or dividends of the Company.
This Company will also issue SURVIVORSHIP ANNUITIES, which provide for survivors during the whole period of life, and DEFERRED ANNUITIES, by which individuals may provide for themselves in advanced age.

Hamill—Late Letter to the Clipper—Jimmy's Friends Confident up to the Last—A Letter from Laughlin.

By the next arrival from Europe our people will be made acquainted with the result of the recent race for the championship of the aquatic world, between our plucky townsman Hamill, and the English champion Kelly. Intense anxiety prevails in sporting circles, and indeed, among all classes of the community, to learn the tidings of victory or defeat for the Pittsburgh oarsman. But little money will change hands here, as everybody feels so confident of Jimmy's success, that a wager cannot be obtained against him. From the New York Clipper we take the following abstract of a letter from its own special correspondent, dated Cuckfield, Sussex, England, June 26th:

The staking of the final £20 aside was done regularly and in order on the afternoon of the 23d inst., at the Sportsman office, at which were present Messrs. Charles Bush, Kelley's principal backer, and a gentleman withal; Harry Smith, proprietor of the Sportsman; Wormald, its editor-in-chief; Harry Kelley, George Drewitt, and your correspondent, with several attaches of the Sportsman office. Drewitt was to have rowed against Coombes on the 23d, but the latter, poor fellow, fell sick with brain fever, and was obliged to forfeit. Had the race taken place Kelley and Drewitt could not have left for Newcastle until Tuesday, 26th, as they have been mutually training each other, as it were, for their respective encounters, and Drewitt is to be Kelly's aid-de-camp for his contests with Hamill. The interview at the staking was only brief, as the parties were in a hurry, but the conversation was courteous and intercourse very friendly.

"After paying over the money, I was at once handed over the second £50 due Hamill as part payment of expenses for coming here; so that, save choosing the referee, which was to be done on Monday, the 25th, there is but little to do but for Hamill to win a glorious victory for the stars and stripes on the glorious Fourth, and subsequent day. I took a good look at Kelley, and I must say that he looked to me to be rather 'fine,' as trainers express it, and his countenance certainly wore, to me, an air of perplexity, his eye not having the same vivid flash, and having more paleness about the lips than when I have seen him on former occasions. He expressed himself as being in excellent health, however, in fact "never better," and though not boastful, has full confidence in his own abilities. Of Hamill, and his doings, the very best reports reach me from headquarters through his brother John, and in a letter of the 20th he states that "we are all well." The American delegation at Newcastle was increased on the 19th by the arrival of Johnny Mackey, who, I believe, has all faith in Hamill's success.

Betting among leading sportsmen seems still to be very limited, Kelly of course, being the favorite at 6, 7, and in small bets at 8, to 4, and I see quoted that £20 have been staked as forfeit, for a bet of £[illegible] to £[illegible]. Financial operations on things aquatic, however, are, I am told, seldom done much in advance, large investments being drawn out by the enthusiasm of the day, and it is anticipated that plenty of that will be exhibited at Newcastle on Fourth of July week, the more so if the arrival of any number of Hamill's friends from America, with the necessary "spons," should help to stimulate speculation. That Hamill is not friendless and alone in a strange country is shown by the fact that more of his colors have been ordered. I have not seen them yet, but that pleasure awaits me on my arrival in Newcastle next week. Of the "opinions of the press" on the races it is not necessary to dilate upon, as your usual receipt of foreign "exchanges" will inform you of what they have to say. The weather at present is warm, steady and beautiful, and it is ardently to be wished that it will be so on the race days, for which commendable preparations have been made to avoid "fouling," the Newcastle harbor master having promised to keep all steamers that may accompany the men on the first day in good order, when they are to keep well astern of the official and police boats; and on the second day the only boat that will accompany the men will be the official boat, as all others will be compelled to moor on the south side of the course. If this part of the programme is well carried out, the chances for fouling or swamping will be few, and in that case Hamill's chances for victory will be materially increased. This shows the wisdom of Hamill's choice of course, which, although not so wide, must, for the above reasons, be better than the Thames; for, judging from the behavior of the captains of the steamers at the Hoare and Sadler race, it would take all the police boats in the world to keep in order such a number as would be present on the Thames from London to witness events so important as international sculling races between two men of such repute. Kelley's friends did all they could, and dilated considerably on the merits of the Thames course, to induce the American to "fight it out on that line," even to offering £50 more to have it there, for which nobody blames them; but they must see and commend the wisdom of Hamill's choice, if he desired a fair show.

The following letter from Mr. Laughlin, Hamill's trainer, speaks confidently of the result of the races, and from what he says concerning Jimmy's time, he has good reason for being thus confident:

NEW CASTLE, June 23d, 1866.

EDITOR NEW YORK CLIPPER:—"It is now only ten days off the race. We are all enjoying good health, Jimmy in particular. He could not possibly be in better trim for his races. He weighed at Pittsburgh before we left home, [illegible] pounds; will weigh, on the day of race [illegible] pounds. There never was a man that worked as hard as Jimmy has worked. He had to do nearly twice the amount of work he ever did before for a race, all on account of the climate, which is very changeable—cold one day and rain the next, but we have worried through it all, after a hard struggle. Our colors are out, and are selling like hot cakes. Our prospects for winning are good. We had a trial over the course yesterday. Chambers, in his palmiest days, told me himself that he never rowed the course in less than 22 minutes on trial, and at a race 23:50, the fastest. Jimmy rowed it yesterday in 19:45. What do you think of that? And he rowed it in the boat that Chambers lost his last race with Kelly in. His new boat, built by Clasper, is a good one, and will answer for our races. The steamboat owners and captains (by the way, good friends of ours,) held a meeting, and have arranged things so that there will be no trouble, at least, to us. You have no idea of the friends we have among the Tynesiders. They want to see Kelly beat, and are not particular who does it. We have been in conversation with Kelly, who appears quite a gentleman. He made the remark to a friend of ours, after seeing Jimmy row, "that if Hamill could row, a man can fly." So you see he is like a great many more here. He can't see Jimmy's quick stroke, but he will know better after the first race. Jimmy says he will hit the boat about [illegible] a minute for the Clipper. [How are you [illegible] strokes a minute for five miles, if necessary.] Chambers' principal backers, Mr. Wilkinson, Mr. Blakie and Mr. Brown, are going their pile on us. They say that Chambers is no such a man as the Little Engine, (Jimmy) and never was. One of the men, Mr. Wilkinson, has taken £[illegible] to £400, one bet, on Jimmy, but on the day of the race the bets will be even—perhaps odds on Jimmy. They have an idea that Jimmy cannot hold his quick stroke; but Bob Chambers says that Jim will beat Kelly, sure. He ought to be a pretty good judge. We will start for home on the same steamer we left in, if possible, (City of New York), about the 10th of July. We don't intend remaining here longer than necessary, as we are anxious to see the loved ones at home. We join in sending our respects to all friends in general.

Yours,
JAMES LAUGHLIN.

The Bennehoff Fire—Further Particulars.

The Titusville Herald says: Our reporter revisited Petroleum Center and Bennehoff Run yesterday, and obtained some additional particulars concerning the fire of Saturday night.

The lightning which caused the fire on Bennehoff Run struck three places at one and the same time. An old tank of the Rancie well, Bennehoff Run, a tree on top of the hill on the Stevenson Farm, and the tools in the Bliss well on Pioneer Run, where it stunned Mr. Hill, the engineer, without doing further damage. The direction was northwest and southwest, the same direction in which the oil belt is supposed to run. The shock was so great on Pioneer as to cause the hill to tremble with a low rumbling noise, and at the same instant the light shot heavenward from Bennehoff.

One well on lease 50, engine house and rig, derrick saved; loss $1,000. One rig on lease 35, loss $1,000. Two rigs on lease 29, loss $2,000. One engine house on lease 34, loss $300. One engine house on lease 35, torn down, loss $300. Two rigs on lease 29, owned by Frothingham & Newlan, loss $2,500.

The scene of the conflagration is one of great desolation; but hundreds of men are at work putting up tanks, engine houses, derricks, &c., with the utmost possible speed. The flowing wells are connected with the various tanks not burned, and the oil is run off in barrels. Harley & Co.'s pipes were in working order and pumping off oil from the Philadelphia well. This is the only large producing well on the run which was saved. The tanks had just been covered in with wooden tops and fire proof cement on the day of the fire.

Misprints in yesterday's report: Telegraph well is on lease 25, not 23. Phil Sheridan wells had 1,800 barrels of oil destroyed. The Rancie well is on lease 24.

The whole damage will probably be repaired within ten days.

Odd Fellows' Demonstration at Greensburg.

At Greensburg, Westmoreland county, to-day, there will be an imposing demonstration of the fraternity of Odd Fellows, on the occasion of the visit of State Grand Lodge Officers. The business of the occasion, the initiation of members in the secret work of the order, will take place during the day, and in the evening, P. G. M., G. Alexander Simpson, Esq., of Philadelphia, will deliver a lecture in the Court House. Members of this (the third) district, who accepted the invitation to attend the demonstration, assembled at the Pennsylvania railroad depot this morning at seven o'clock, and under the escort of Mr. M. Kush, D. D. G. M., and other Grand Officers, proceeded to Greensburg.

New Lecture Committee.—At the meeting of the Young Men's Mercantile Library Association, on Tuesday evening, a new Lecture Committee was appointed, the members of the former one declining to serve another year. The following named gentlemen were selected: James B. Scott, Oliver Lemmon, W. P. Herbert, Thomas W. Miller, J. B. Morgan, Jr., B. F. Jennings and Reuben Miller.

Recovered.—Two horses, stolen from the pasture of Capt. John Rodgers, on the Perrysville plankroad, and for which a reward was offered, have been recovered by the Allegheny police.

EARLY TELEGRAMS.

FROM WASHINGTON.

Convalescence of President Johnson—Important Cabinet Meeting—Difference of Opinion Between the President and Secretary of War—Extension of the Capitol Grounds, &c.

NEW YORK, July 11.—The World's Washington special says: The President was well enough to-day to be present at the Cabinet meeting. Quite a contest is understood to have occurred through the conflict of opinion between Secretary Stanton and the President, relative to the construction of what is known as the peace proclamation. Mr. Stanton claims that the writ of habeas corpus is still suspended in South Carolina, and that civilians held under sentence by General Sickles' court martial should not be turned over to the civil authorities.

The morning papers contain the following special dispatches from Washington: The President's forthcoming veto of the Freedmen's Bureau bill is said to have been discussed in the Cabinet session to-day. Secretary Harlan took a decided stand in favor of the bill and was partly backed by Seward on the score of expediency. Seward is said to be indifferent to its ref[illegible] but fears the effect of so many vetoes.

Several important changes and improvements are being made in the office of the Executive Mansion. The dark and dingy anteroom, so familiar to all visitors, has had the back partition taken out, thus extending it to the south front of the building within two windows opening in that direction. It will be repaired, painted, and used for the President's office. As at present, one will be for the private Secretary, the one north of it for the aids, and the one at present used by them will be the future ante-room.

The bill to extend the Capitol grounds, which passed the Senate to-day, proposes that the ground shall embrace forty-one acres. The estimated cost of the additional ground was, in 1861, about $200,000.

Sixteen thousand four hundred and thirty-two acres were entered by the actual settlers in June at the Winnebago City Land Office, Minnesota.

It is not probable the Hon. L. D. Campbell, Minister to Mexico, will receive his instructions from the State Department and orders to depart for the republic until the Mexican court shall have obtained something like a permanent residence.

THE SPANISH INSURRECTIONS.

The Royal Troops Engaged for Five Hours—Over 1,000 Insurgents Killed and Wounded—All Quiet in Cuba—No Insurrection at Puerto Principe—Mischievous Canards.

NEW YORK, July 11.—The Herald's Madrid correspondence of the 25th of June details all the serious circumstances attending the late military insurrections against the Crown and Government of Spain, as they occurred at Madrid and at Gerona, Cataluna, on the 22d and 23d ultimo. In Madrid the insurgent troops were joined by a large body of peasants, to whom the soldiers distributed arms, who aided them in throwing up formidable barricades in front and around the military quarters. Three regiments of the Queen were hotly engaged during five hours in recovering the position, and were only successful after a cannonade of five hours, and a bayonet charge. Over one thousand of the insurgents were killed and wounded, and the Royal troops experienced a heavy loss. Two generals died of their wounds soon afterwards, and the Moderate leader, General Narvaez, was wounded. Martial law was in full force. Two thousand persons, Spaniards and foreigners, were arrested, and some of them shot, in Madrid. "Long live Prim," "Long live the Republic," were the cries of the revolutionists in the capital.

Iberian unity, or the fusion of Spain and Portugal, is the exciting idea of the advanced Liberals of Spain. Trade was very injuriously affected by the disturbances.

It was thought the Spaniards would order another naval demonstration in the Pacific.

The Times' Baltimore dispatch says: A Baltimore house of the highest respectability is stated to have received by the steamer Cuba a semi-official communication, denying the news of an insurrection at Puerto Principe and treating the whole affair as being substantially a canard.

The news of the uprising of the blacks, as well as the arrival of a Cuban fleet with 2,000 men, is also pronounced to be false, by the same party, who, writing about it, attributes the rumor of an insurrection to the gathering of a few hundred Cubans upon one of the squares of Puerto Principe, for the purpose of protesting against the present Cabinet, and of associating themselves in feeling with the revolutionists of Spain, headed by Gen. Prim and other Democrats of the same stamp.

FROM NEW YORK.

Trial of the Steam Ram Dunderberg—Trot Over the Fashion Course—Sculling Match—Shipment of Specie for Europe.

NEW YORK, July 11.—The great Ram Dunderberg has had steam on for a number of days for the purpose of testing her massive machinery. The trials thus far proved entirely satisfactory, and everything has worked with an ease and freedom seldom witnessed in new engines.

The trot at the Fashion Course yesterday, for a purse of $1,000, resulted in Mr. Carpenter's "Lucy" being declared the winner in three straight heats. Time: 2:33, 2:30 and 2:32½.

In the sculling match on the Hudson yesterday, between Gil Ward and John McKiel, the latter was victorious. Distance, five miles, time, forty-one minutes.

The shipment of specie for Europe to-day amounted to $729,884.

The Canadian Parliament.

NEW YORK, July 10.—The Herald's Ottawa dispatch says: There was an excited session of the Canadian Parliament yesterday. The opposition assailed the government with great force and effect, and the project of annexation to the United States seemed to gain favor.

SAVE THYSELF.
A CURE FOR INTEMPERANCE.
Dr. S. Cutter's Celebrated Stomach Bitters.

The greatest Nervine ever discovered. The addition, within the last ten years, of Dr. Cutter's Nervine Discovery to the English Bitters, makes it a perfect antidote to intemperance. Previous to his discovery of the Nervine, this medicine was before the English public, celebrated as a Tonic and Alterative, in diseases of the Stomach and of the Bowels, and diseases arising from impedities of the blood. As a nervine it is always the choice of the Stomach, in all persons addicted to the use of stimulants and narcotics, such as alcohol and malt liquors, opium, morphia, arsenic, tobacco, &c., as it removes the morbid appetite, or craving of the stomach for stimulant; in Headache, Neuralgia, and all nervous diseases, it has no equal as a Nervine.

Ten years use of the improved English Bitters in St. Bartholomew's Hospital, St. Mary's Hospital, Newgate and other prisons, has established its reputation, as a cure for intemperance, and gained for it the approval of the attending surgeons in all the hospitals and prisons throughout Great Britain, and is prescribed now by many physicians in private practice, for persons addicted to the use of stimulants and sedatives. In Paralysis, St. Vitus Dance, Epileptic Fits, Nervous Twitchings, and all Nervous diseases, it has no equal. Wholesale and Retail Agent,

The Fifth Street Fire—Full Investigation Before the Mayor—The Prisoners Discharged.

Yesterday morning at ten o'clock a hearing was had before Mayor McCarthy in the case of Messrs. J. H. Van Pelt and J. A. Pyle, arrested on suspicion of having set fire to the photograph gallery of the former, situated in the fourth story of the Brewer building, on the corner of Fifth and Market streets. District Attorney Levi B. Duff appeared for the prosecution, and Thos. B. Hamilton, Esq., for the defense. The first witness sworn was officer David Campbell:

Was at the Custom-house steps this morning about twenty minutes of two o'clock. Heard an alarm of fire at the foot of Fifth street and ran down in the direction of Market street. Saw smoke issuing from the fourth story window of the Brewer Block. Went up into the building and found the fire in a photograph gallery in the fourth story. When I entered, saw Kavanaugh Trimble and John Newell trying to extinguish the fire. It appeared to be burning about a barrel and some boxes, near the door. We threw out the burning box and some of the rubbish, and extinguished the rest of the fire by throwing water upon it. After the fire was out I heard Newell say there were some men in the building, and thinking they might be the incendiaries, I told some person at the foot of the stairs to close the door and allow no one to pass out. Newell then came out with Van Pelt; he was dressed and had his necktie tied; asked him what he was doing; he said he was proprietor of the gallery, and that he slept there; he said he had been carrying out goods; there is only one entrance to the gallery from Fifth street; did not see him until the fire was out; he did nothing to put out the fire; think he could not have been carrying anything away, as there was only one entrance; I arrested him immediately; he seemed very much excited, and said I needn't be afraid of him; am sure the place was set on fire; the stuff that was burning seemed to be paper and sweepings from the floor.

The witness was cross-examined at some length, by Mr. Hamilton, who asked him:

How do you know the building was set on fire, when at the time of the alarm you was on the Custom House corner? I thought it was. How do you know there is no other mode of egress from the room where the fire were, than that you have sworn to? Did you examine the premises? No, but believe such to be the case. How do you know he was not carrying articles from an adjoining room to the door beneath? Did not see him do it. He might have been doing so without your knowledge? Yes sir. Witness also said that Pyle told in the watch house that they had been roused about an hour before, by a disturbance on St. Clair street, which they thought was an alarm of fire. They had got up, and on finding that nothing was the matter, Van Pelt had said, "We won't get up again until the walls are hot."

John Newell next testified: Was at the fire last night; it was in the fourth story of Brewer's building; don't know how it originated; was the first person there; bursted open the Fifth street door, and on reaching the upper story found some paper and rubbish on fire; the paper was lying in a corner, near a barrel and some boxes. While I was attempting to put out the fire, saw some person come from the back room and throw some water on the fire from a bucket. The room was dark, could not tell who the person was. Might have been Mr. Van Pelt, didn't know. After the fire was out, met Van Pelt in the rear room. Asked him what he was doing there; told me he owned the place; brought him out to the west room; told John Trimble and Patrick Kavenaugh of the circumstance; asked Van Pelt what he was doing; he said he did business there; I then handed him over to the police. Shortly afterwards I went back into the house and found Pyle. After they were arrested they took us down into the third story into a room which they pointed out as their sleeping apartment. They went down a stairway leading from the gallery. Said they wanted to see their clothing. Was at the corner of St. Clair and Liberty streets when I heard the alarm; heard the watchman rap and then cry fire. Trimble and Kavenaugh were with me at the time. When we got to the building, I didn't stop to try the street door, but kicked it open.

Patrick Kavenaugh went with Newell to the fire. Noticed the barrel, but it was very hot; it had some liquid in it and I turned it over, and the liquid, whatever it was, helped to put out the fire. Did not see either of the defendants do anything to put out the fire.

John H. Hare, Chief Engineer, sworn—Was at the fire and helped to extinguish it. Thought it was the result of accident, and also supposed that it might be the result of chemical action, as the flames seemed to have originated on the shelves where a quantity of chemicals were ranged. Have known Mr. Van Pelt for several years, and have always heard him well spoken of. Did not believe he was guilty when arrested. Was astonished at seeing him in custody.

This closed the testimony for the prosecution.

The first witness called for the defense was B. L. H. Dabbs.—Know the establishment of Mr. Van Pelt; visited it this morning; don't think the material could be replaced for less than five thousand dollars. Have known Van Pelt for about two years. He has always borne an excellent character. Never heard a word against him. There is nothing used in photographing liable to spontaneous combustion except gun cotton; that is kept in small quantities; don't think there would be any difficulty in disposing of an establishment like that of the defendant. Think he has as good patronage as other photographers in the city.

R. J. McCandless testified that the establishment was worth $5,000 or more. This witness, as well as R. R. Harbours and George Bell, testified that Mr. Van Pelt had always sustained the highest reputation.

George Conkling, of Maryland, testified that he had a conversation with Van Pelt yesterday in relation to his business, and that he had told him his establishment was worth about five thousand dollars. Witness asked him if he would sell, and he replied that he would not. He knew Mr. Van Pelt in Cumberland, Md., and he was one of the most respected men in the place.

Mr. Giles testified that Mr. Pyle boards with him, and that he is a young man of unexceptionable character, and a member of church.

R. S. Hughes—The private watchman employed at Brewer's building told me that the alarm of fire was given by some one in the fourth story of the building.

W. T. Purviance—Visited Van Pelt's gallery by the request of the Fire Marshal. Should suppose the establishment to be worth at least five thousand dollars.

There are chemicals used in our profession that are liable to spontaneous combustion. The most dangerous perhaps is gun cotton and alkali. Have known Mr. Van Pelt for almost two years; he moves in the best society in the city. Never heard his integrity doubted.

N. Grattan Murphy, Fire Marshal, testified that he had examined the premises after the fire; the fire occurred in a pile of rubbish, consisting in pieces of paper, bits of stick, &c., apparently sweepings from the floor, and so far as could be seen, the accumulation of weeks, if not months. He judged that the materials had not been placed there as a preparation for a fire, and the fire was, so far as he could ascertain, the result of accident. But there was a degree of neglect fairly criminal in permitting such piles of rubbish to accumulate. Besides the pile in which the fire originated, he found two other piles of similar character, in either of which a spark would have caused a conflagration. They were mere piles of tinder. This carelessness in regard to upper stories is exceedingly prevalent, and is the cause of many conflagrations. In this case, had the discovery of the flames been delayed a few moments, a tremendous loss of property would have ensued as the result of sheer carelessness. He was told by the watchman that, simultaneously with his discovery of the flames, he had heard the alarm given from the fourth story window.

Paul H. Hacke, sworn: Have visited the premises since the fire; feel assured that its origin was accidental; knew Mr. Van P. for nearly two years; heard him spoken well of.

This closed the evidence for the defense, when his Honor discharged both the defendants, stating that there was not the least shadow of evidence against them.

In justice to the parties, we append the following statement of the matter as given by Mr. Van Pelt: I had been spending the evening with Mr. Conklin at Duprez and Benedicts' Minstrels. I retired to my room about half-past eleven o'clock. Mr. Pyle and I occupy the same bed. The first knowledge I had of the fire I was awakened with the smell as of something burning. Succeeded in awaking Mr. Pyle; asked him if he did not smell something burning. Told him to get up and see what it was. He did so, and proceeded toward the operating room. I began to dress myself. In a few minutes Mr Pyle returned and said the building was all was all on fire, and that the flames were bursting up through the floor of the operating room; ran immediately to the operating room; believed that the lower story was on fire; did not suspect that the flames had originated in the operating room; told Mr. Pyle to assist me in taking our personal effects to the third story, so that we could throw them from the window into Market street. Before doing so, however, I put my head out of the window and shouted fire twice. Heard the alarm become general, and heard men in the building; supposed that they were firemen; went in among them once and threw a bucket of silver water on the fire; removed my trunk by way of a rear stairway that leads from the third to the fourth story; was astonished and embarrassed when arrested, and told the police that I was the proprietor of the establishment, and that I was perfectly willing to accompany them, as I believed I would have been discharged on reaching the Mayor's office.

The result of the investigation showed conclusively that there was not the slighest shadow of cause for the arrest of Mr. Van Pelt, who, from our own personal knowledge, is a gentleman in the fullest acceptation of the term, having a reputation in the community for integrity and honor that has hitherto been above suspicion. The cause assigned for the perpetration of the act was to receive a policy of $3,000, while several disinterested witnesses testified that his stock alone was worth $2,000 more than that sum, and he would therefore be a loser to that amount. As to the statement of Mr. Van Pelt being concealed in a room, there is not the shadow of evidence to justify such allegation, which the mere circumstance [illegible] fire being between this rear room and [illegible] only mode of exit conclusively proves. [illegible] no fault to find with the police in arresting Van Pelt, but we sincerely trust future officers will be very careful [illegible] respectable citizens with such [illegible] unless in cases where [illegible] positive. It is a very easy [illegible] mouth of the defendant is [illegible] aw, to paint things in the [illegible] light, and thereby jeopard- [illegible] happiness of an entire family [illegible] could be more fully in- [illegible] of certain parties that [illegible] is innocent until he [illegible] should be treated with [illegible] accused and not [illegible] prompt a spaich [illegible] case, showed [illegible] no other mo- [illegible] the ends of jus- [illegible]

FINANCE AND TRADE.

WEDNESDAY, July 11, 1866.

Gold opened in New York to-day at 149½, advanced to 150, and closed dull at 149½. The demand is light and there is no speculative movement. The only reason ascribed for the present quotations being maintained, is the refusal of foreign bankers to draw at sight for anything less than gold shipping rates, and parties who wish to use their money at once, do not care about taking 60 day bills, as interest is still high in England, and has advanced in the Continent.

Government bonds are firm but without notable change. 1881s hold their own, but purchasers are a little shy about taking hold of them at present rates. 5-20's (old) are slightly off, as compared with yesterday, and bids for new bonds are ⅛ lower. 10-40s (large bonds) at 98⅜, and dull of sale since the interest is only payable annually. 7-30's are firmer, although there is but little inquiry for them in this market at anything over 105. In New York round lots are selling at 105⅛@105¼.

There is rather more inquiry for loans, and the rates are slightly higher. Railroad stocks firm and advancing, except Fort Wayne, which is steady at 97½. Cleveland & Pittsburgh is noted at 84½, and Erie, at 75.

As will be seen by advertisement, the Columbia Oil Co. announces a dividend of four per cent.

—The Boston Advertiser refers as follows to the recent action of the Associated Banks of that city, in modifying a previous vote whereby the notes of State Bank bills were not to be received on deposit after July 1: "The consequence of the first action was to create considerable disturbance in the public mind, inducing in business circles a general distrust and refusal of all the state Bank issues. The cause of this unnecessary annoyance is now entirely removed by the recent action of the banks, but as the general public is slow to become acquainted with the change and to comprehend that its effect is to restore the whole matter to the position in which it originally stood before any action at all was taken, we again refer to the matter and make the following plain statement: The National Bank of Redemption, as heretofore, continues and will continue to receive for redemption, the notes of State Banks, not alone of Massachusetts, but of all New England; and all the banks at Boston will continue to receive on deposit, as heretofore, the old State Currency, thus, as before stated, placing the whole matter as it originally stood."

—The causes of the failure of Overend, Gurney & Co. are becoming clear. It is a very bad business. The old firm which sold the business was insolvent at the time; the new company trusted four directors; these directors took over some five or six millions of securities without going through them or calling in an accountant, or, so far as we can make out, giving the new shareholders any inkling of the true state of affairs. Indeed they probably had none themselves. The old partners have sacrificed vast wealth in the effort to fill up the gulf, but after sacrificing the half million paid for their good will, nearly a million and a quarter which stood to their private credit on the books, £650,000 obtained by sale of their estates, and £1,500,000 more which will be obtained, there will still be a deficit of 2,700,000. The liquidators do not expect to save more than £100,000 of the paid-up capital, and it may be doubted whether when all liabilities have been met, the shareholders will escape without further and very heavy calls. If a State Treasury were to do business in this style, take over millions of paper property on the guarantee of sellers who could hardly help thinking that paper good, we should never hear the last of official imbecility.

—The July dividends of Boston corporations amount to $5,609,857 against $9,088,071, payable in January, 1866, $6,063,332, payable in July, 1865, and $7,365,020, payable in January, 1865. Of the above mentioned dividends of the present month, $2,423,857 are from railroads; $2,380,[illegible] from manufactures; $3,467,867 interest on bonds, and $306,281 dividends on miscellaneous bonds.

—The receipts of cotton at all the ports last week aggregated about 13,500 bales, and the exports less than 15,500 bales. The stocks at all the ports are estimated at 381,025 bales, of which New Orleans held, on June 29, 115,290, Mobile, 35,000; Charleston, 5,236; Savannah, 11,[illegible]; Texas, June 22, 6,755; Florida, June 2, 4,588; New York, July 6, 139,000, and other ports about 30,000. The almost total cessation of exports is mainly due to quiet market and large stock at Liverpool, and it is therefore not surprising that the market here continues dull and drooping.

—The New York Times of July 10 says:

The foreign news of last night to June 27, from London, was in response to the accounts from this side of June 15, when gold went up to 160 per cent, on the certainty of the Continental War. Our United States 5-20s fell only 1½ per cent in London, on a rise of 15 per cent in gold and exchange in New York, and this result is so much better than looked for that the price here advanced to-day from 105½ to 106¾ per cent, and gold was 149¾ per cent weaker than on Saturday. The interest on the Gold Room speculation is tamer than usual, while the movement in government securities, for investment and for transmission to Europe, is active, and the speculation in the railways (especially Erie Common Stock) buoyant and prices rising.

New York Stock and Money Market.

NEW YORK, July 11.—There is a fair demand for money, but it is generally supplied at 5 per cent on call. The gold market fell off to 149⅜@149½ at the close, on the report that the Senate had resolved to postpone any action on the tariff. The market for exchange is quiet and firm, bankers bills are quoted at 109⅞@110, and short sight at 110¼@110½. The government securities were firm this afternoon, with a fair demand following. Closing prices: 5-20 Coupons, 1865, 103¾@105⅛; 10-40 Coupons 98⅛@98⅜; July 7-30s, 103¾@103⅞.

The stock market was generally firm at the last open board. Erie continues to be the great feature of the market and fluctuates wildly; there have been some heavy short contracts covered yesterday and to-day.

Latest—Erie, 74½. Petroleum stocks: Benhenoff Run, 900. Pithole Creek, 215, United States, 840, First National, 8, Gold 110.

The Commercial's money article says: The stock market shows vigorous recovery from the slight reaction of yesterday. Transactions at the morning board were unusually large, and prices range higher throughout the list. The activity in Governments continues. The Government is at present a large operator in securities, and the present excitement and advance in prices, is chiefly owing to its transactions. The passage of the tariff bill in the House, with such a large majority, has revived confidence in the gold room that the bill will become a law. There has consequently been an enlarged demand from speculators, with a view to holding gold off the market so as to squeeze the importers. Money is in rather more demand, and some lenders are holding for six per cent. on call loans. The General rate, however, is 5 per cent. Discounts are a shade firmer but quiet; prime names range at 5½@7 per cent.

The Post's money article says there is no supply of gold for delivery and loans of coin are made either without interest, or at 3@4 per cent, in favor of the borrower. The foreign demand for United States securities is only a feature of general interest as stock exchange. The inquiry from investors. Proportionately, there, is much activity in the loan market of railroad shares. Erie is the chief favorite and has risen to 76½.

The following were the sales at the 1 o'clock open board to-day: Western Union Telegraph, 58½; Erie, 74¾; Hudson River, 114½; Michigan Southern and Northern Indiana, 81¾; Cleveland and Pittsburgh, 86; Marietta and Cincinnati, 15; Cleveland and Toledo, 110; Chicago and North Western, 31½. Gold closed at 149⅝.

Ironton Iron Market.

IRONTON, (O.) July 5.—There is nothing new regarding prices. A firmness is yet exhibited in every branch of the trade. Transactions in pig have been scarce. We note sales of 200 tons No. 1, delivered here, at $50 on sixty days. Quotations still rest at $50@55 for No 1 foundry; $47@49 for No. 2 mill. There is not the least apprehension of a fall below these figures. The signs of a better demand are brightening. Rates abroad are already strengthening.

In the year 1865, the production of pig iron in this county amounty to 20,570 tuns, against 16,100 in the year before.

The Old Rolling Mill, Scott, Campbell & Co., is undergoing important repairs, so that full operations will be delayed about six weeks. Some parts of the mill, however, will be running in a couple of weeks. The rollers are being provided with new foundations, and the building itself will be considerably improved.

The tariff question is now agitating Congress, and a hard fight will be on the proposed increase of iron duties. The bill was before the Committee of the Whole a few days since, when Mr. Bundy succeeded in getting the tariff on pig iron raised from $9 to $10. Whether the bill, with the section favorable to the interests of this locality, will finally pass the House, is a question that cannot be definitely answered. The western men have a bean in their eyes, which they are prone to make believe is a terrible monster, so that their fright makes them impervious to reason. Nothing but the passage and enforcement of the measure will disabuse their minds.—Register.

Chicago Cattle Market.

CHICAGO, July 10.—The following are the receipts and shipments of beef cattle for the current week, according to the returns of the board of trade, and for the corresponding period of last week:

	Receipts.	Shipments.
Monday	703	1,279
Tuesday	24	166
Total this week	727	1,445
Same time last week	306	1,088

The fresh receipts of Beef Cattle to-day at the Union Stock Yards are 26 cars. Entered sales 43 head at prices ranging from $3@5,00 for common light cows, $4@6,50 for medium butchers' stock, and from $7@7,50 for fair to good shipping stock stock. The market is dull and inactive at a reduction of from 25@50c per 100 lbs on last week's closing prices. The stock offered is of a light class, and not calculated to bring good prices; the greater proportion consists of half-fed cows and steers, and such stock only tends to fill the yards and reduce prices. There are very few choice steers in the yards, and for such fair prices are obtained off the cars. City butchers and speculators are the principle operators. The market is weak at the close at the decline above noticed, shippers are not disposed to operate, on account of the depressing advices from New York.

Milwaukee Market.

MILWAUKEE, July 11.—Flour declined 25c. Wheat steady, at $1,90@1,91 for No. 1. Corn firm, at 59c. Oats quiet, at 36c.

PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
WEDNESDAY, July 11, 1866.

The operations in the produce markets continue very much restricted, nor does it seem probable at present that there will be any immediate improvement. The demand for the leading articles is restricted almost entirely to supplying immediate wants, while prices generally are nominal.

GROCERIES—The Grocery market is quiet, and without quotable change. Sugars are selling at 13 to 13½ for Cuba; 13 to 14 for Porto Rico; 17½ for Crushed; 16½ for "A" Coffee; 16 for "B" do, and 15½ for "C" extra. Choice Rio Coffee is quoted at 30. Porto Rico Molasses, 88 to 90, and Rangoon Rice, 10@11.

PROVISIONS—Bacon is firm, with a fair jobbing demand but unchanged. Sales at 17 to 17½ for Shoulders; 19½@20 for Ribbed Sides; and 25½ to 26 for Sugar Cured Hams. Lard is dull but unchanged. Mess Pork is quoted at $33,50@33,75. Small sales of Dried Beef at 28.

GRAIN—Wheat continues dull but unchanged at $2,35 for No. 1 Spring. Oats a shade firmer, and a little more active; sale of 1 car "mixed" at 54; 400 bush prime White at 55, and 600 do do at 56. Chicago Oats may be quoted at 48@50. Corn is dull but unchanged at 75 to 80. Small sales from store at 80 to 85. No demand for Rye or Barley.

FLOUR—Is firm with a contiued fair local demand and prices are well maintained, but unchanged. Sales of Spring Wheat Family at $10,50 to $11,50; Winter Wheat at $12,50@13, and fancy brands at $14 to $16. Rye Flour is quoted at $6,50@6,75.

FISH—White Fish scarce and higher, being quoted at $10 per half bbl. Sale of Lake Herring at $5,25@5,50. No. 3 Large Mackerel quoted at $15,75 per bbl, and $8,50 per half bbl.

MILL FEED—Sale of 12 tons light Middlings at $1,50, and 70 bags Shorts at 90 to 95c.

POTATOES—New Potatoes, under the influence of large receipts, have still further declined, and we now quote at $4 to $4,50 per bbl. Old crop about exhausted; may be quoted at $3,50@4.

DRIED FRUIT—Sales of 6 bbls quarter Peaches at 20, and 3 bbls prime halves at 25. Apples selling at 15@16.

CHEESE—Is steady with sales at 15@16 for Western Reserve, and 20 to 21 for Goshen.

SEEDS—We can report sales of Flaxseed at $3, and there is a fair demand with but very little offering.

SORGHUM—Is dull at 50 to 55.

PITTSBURGH PETROLEUM MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
WEDNESDAY, July 11, 1866.

CRUDE—The market for Crude was dull to-day, the demand, apparently being less active than on Tuesday, but prices remain unchanged. Barrelled oil may be quoted at 11½ to 12 cents, packages returned, and 16½ to 17, packages included, according to gravity, while bulk oil may be quoted at 12½. Sale of 300 bbls, in bulk, at 12½, on the spot, and 3,000 bbls, in bulk, to be delivered in August and September, at the option of the seller, at 12½. There seems to be a little more inquiry for future than present delivery, and while some of our refiners do feel timid about buying at 12½, there are others who are holding off in anticipation of it declining to 10c. The advices from the east are by no means encouraging, being quoted in Philadelphia to-day at 22, packages included. We have no late intelligence from the wells.

REFINED—There is no improvement to note in the demand for bonded oil, and the market continues dull and heavy with a tendency to still lower prices. We have but a single sale to report, 500 bbls for all August, buyer's option, at 28½, delivered in Philadelphia. For immediate delivery, 37 cents may be considered a fair quotation, and 37½ for the last half of July. We are cognizant of an offer to sell one thousand barrels for September, at 40, but at last accounts it had not been accepted. We have heard and read of the market having "touched bottom" very frequently during the past three months, but it really begins to look as if there was no "bottom" to it. It has been declining constantly for a considerable length of time, and what is worse than all, there are no indications at present of any immediate improvement.

RESIDIUM—There is some little inquiry, and we can report a sale of 300 bbls at $3,25 per bbl, free on board cars here. No movement whatever in Naptha.

ARRIVALS—The arrivals of oil continue light. James Baxter received 295 bbls, R. Wray 380, and the Penna. Salt Co. 500 bbls Residuum.

RECEIPTS OF GRAIN.

RIVER NEWS.

The river is again receding at this point, the pier marks indicating but three feet last evening. The weather continues cloudy and warm, with indications of more rain.

The Forest City, from Parkersburg, is the only arrival we have to report. The Arabian, from Cincinnati, was due last night, and will probably be found at the wharf this morning. The Kate Putnam, which boat has been laid up somewhere between here and Wheeling for some days past in consequence of low water, will doubtless be able to get up now that there is a little rise.

The Nora left for Cincinnati last evening, with all the freight she could take on the water, and a fair number of passengers. The Forest City cleared for Parkersburg, as did also the Gallatin and Elector for Brownsville.

The Columbia, Capt. Porter, will positively leave for St. Louis this forenoon, and passengers and shippers should bear this fact in mind. The clerk, Mr. Russell, will be found at his post ready to wait on those having business with the boat.

The Luella, a boat owned in Pittsburgh, has been chartered by the Goverment to run in the vicinity of Fort Benton, Upper Missouri River, until September. When the Government chartered her she was on her way down to St. Louis.

SINKING OF THE TUG BRILLIANT.—The tug Brilliant, which left here for Madison with two barges, containing 15,000 bushels coal belonging the Union Coal Company, struck, at six o'clock Sunday morning, the Anna, which was aground at Rising Sun bar, and immediately sank. Col. Wilson, Superintendant of the Company, left yesterday to endeavor to save the coal, the barges having grounded. If not secured the present rise will drive the barges against the pier at Rising Sun.

ENGINEERS' CONVENTION TO-DAY.—We learn that an engineers' convention is to be held in this city to-day, under the auspices of the Engineers' Association of this city. Delegates from all the river cities and towns from Mobile to Pittsburgh will be in attendance, as matters of vital interest to the engineers on our western waters are to be considered. The late law of Congress relative to engineers is one of the chief subjects of complaint. Arbitrary laws are both injurious and unjust, no matter to whom applied, and we hope our friends, the engineers, while in council, will not go to work, while endeavoring to correct the evils complained of, and recommend any arbitrary laws of their own. Let their motto be: Dum vivimus vivamus.—Louisville Courier, Monday.
